There's only one game left in the college football season, but it figures to be doozy and you won't miss a minute if you have the right streaming app or service (Photo credit: Jamie Lamore Thompson/Shutterstock) After three dozen bowl games topping the calendar between mid-December and New Year's Day, we left with Alabama defending the national title against Clemson in this College Championship football game on Monday (Jan 7) from Santa Clara, California. ET.m, and you don't need to be near the TV to see if the Crimson Tide or Tigers come out on top. The rise of mobile apps and streaming services means you don't have to be glued to a tv set to watch your favorite college football team in action. Open the mobile app of the network with the game of your choice, or if you don't have your favorite cable streaming service, and you can keep track of all the latest fights and touchdowns. How to seeince, we're talking about national championship games, make sure you have access to ESPN, the world leader in the sport, which is broadcast live at monday night's championship. The easiest way to watch big games is to shoot the WatchESPN app available for both Android and iOS. Fortunately for all the major players — DirecTV Now, Hulu Live, PlayStation Vue, Sling TV and YouTube TV, as well as ESPN in their packages, prices start at $25 per month for Sling TV's Orange Package, which includes other ESPN. Pay $40 to $45 for packages that include access to ESPN streaming services TierRelevant Channel, including Monthly Price, DirecTV, NowLive Less, ESPN, ESPN2, ABC, Fox, FS1, CBS $40 DirecTV Now Hulu LiveHulu with live TVESPN, ESPN2, ABC, Fox, FS1, CBSSN $40 Hulu Live TVPlayStation VueAccesS ESPN2, ABC, Fox, FS1 CBS $44.99 PlayStation VueSling TVSling OrangeESPN, ESPN2 $25 Sling TVYou TVYouTube TVESPN, ESPN2, ABC, Fox, FS1, CBSSN $40 YouTube Fubo.TV TV. But we recommend that Fubo pass for that purpose. Fubo.TV doesn't include any ESPN channels, and with the national championship broadcast there, that's a big miss. Four of the five streaming services listed above offer a seven-day free trial (PlayStation Vue is an exception in five days), so in theory you can start your trial during the January 7 championship kick-off and cancel shortly afterwards.
